We Do Not Understand

why some people will be induced to buy mixed paints that are only claimed to be composed wholly of lead and zinc and pure linseed oil, when this claim is only supported by the simple statement of the seller and not sustained by any guarantee of purity nor chemical analysis. Ask them if they will do as Rains' does—he stands ready to deposit in bank a sufficient sum of money to pay the cost of analysis by any first-class chemist whose analysis fails to verify the absolute purity of his paint. Try them by this test and see if they really believe the paint they offer to sell you is pure. The public has been deceived too much and too often on mixed paints. Our paint costs you no more than other dealers ask you for adulterated and short measure gallons.
